Civil Defence Representation

Councillor Buchanan said he had received a letter dated 6 August 2004 from Mr K R Evans, Emergency Management Planner, Ministry of Civil Defence and Emergency Management. The Ministry noted it had been a member of the Environment Committee for a number of years under the Civil Defence Act 1983 and had appreciated the involvement with the Environment Committee.

Mr Evans said that under the new Civil Defence and Emergency Management Environment the Ministry is involved with a number of meetings regarding Civil Defence matters within the Wellington region in particular the Wellington region's Civil Defence Emergency Management Group and the Co-ordinating Executive Group. Mr Evans said the Ministry's involvement in these committees was adequate and no longer needed representation on the Environment Committee.

Mr Evans thanked the Environment Committee for their past hospitality and formally advised that the Ministry had now resigned as a member of the Committee.

Councillor Buchanan said the resignation had been accepted.

During the review of the Terms of Reference of the Environment Committee in the next few weeks the function of Civil Defence will be closely examined to see whether it should remain as part of the Environment Committee.
